Temple City Mayor Yu to Deliver Virtual State of the City Address

Presentation premieres on the city's Facebook and YouTube channels on February 15.

TEMPLE CITY, CA (Feb. 1, 2022)— With the theme "The Little City that Could," Temple City Mayor Vincent Yu will touch on the city's accomplishments in 2021 and what residents and businesses can expect to look forward to in 2022 during the annual State of the City address. Because of the ongoing pandemic, the event remains online, premiering on Temple City's Facebook and YouTube channels on February 15 at 6 p.m.

"If 2020 was a year of disruption and uncertainty, 2021 was a year of adaptation and innovation in Temple City." said Mayor Yu. "As we conclude the second year of the pandemic, I am glad to report that we have met the challenges of serving the community head-on with lessons learned from 2020."

The mayor's speech will reflect back, highlighting some of the people, projects and events that lifted up the community's spirit or helped continue the delivery of City Hall services in the midst of a pandemic. Special guests including Parks and Recreation Commissioner, Lance Baroldi; Library Manager, Jing Li; and owner of Temple City Barbershop, Josh Ramirez will speak on various City programs and projects.

"While we are not a large City, during this pandemic we continue to improve in providing services that make Temple City a great place to work, live, and raise our families" Mayor Yu said.

This year's State of the City address premieres on Temple City's Facebook page at https://www.facebook.com/ConnectwithTC and on YouTube https://www.youtube.com/connectwithtc
